Copyright Statement

Approved by Library Board: 2/08/2010

Date(s) of Revision: 3/14/2022

COPYRIGHT INFORMATION:

The assets of the Baker County Library Historic Photograph Archive are available for non-commercial, educational and personal research use in the United States. Many of the items in the Archive are, or may be, protected by copyright. Due to the complexity of determining copyright status and uncertainty about copyright-relevant facts about items, Baker County Library District provides the following Standardized Rights Statement to users regarding Works in its Archive:

CNE Copyright Not Evaluated

<http://rightsstatements.org/vocab/CNE/1.0/>

This Rights Statement indicates that the data provider has not evaluated the copyright and related rights status of the Item.

The copyright and related rights status of this Item has not been evaluated. You are free to use this Item in any way that is permitted by the copyright and related rights legislation that applies to your use.

Notices:

Unless expressly stated otherwise, Baker County Library District makes no warranties about the Item and cannot guarantee the accuracy of this Rights Statement. You are responsible for your own use.

- You may need to obtain other permissions for your intended use. For example, other rights such as publicity, privacy or moral rights may limit how you may use the material.
- User is solely responsible for obtaining all necessary clearances before reproducing or publishing the material. If information on copyright is available, contact info@bakerlib.org.

Whenever possible, information regarding the copyright status of a work is made available on item-level records. Users are encouraged to refer to this information to determine whether additional permission is required to use a work, and to judge the level of risk associated with using a copyrighted work or an item of “undetermined” copyright status.

ACCURACY OF METADATA

The photo archivist and/or volunteers provide descriptive information for each item digitized to assist users in determining the historical importance and cultural context of an item. In some instances, an item may have incomplete information about authors, publishers, or other persons associated with the material. The library welcomes comments from anyone who may have additional information about any of the items in the collection so that appropriate information may be provided to researchers and teachers in the future.

COPYRIGHT COMPLAINTS AND TAKE DOWN NOTICES

The Library respects the intellectual property rights of all authors and takes copyright complaints seriously.

If you are the copyright holder or the authorized representative of the copyright holder for a work in this collection, and you believe your copyright may have been infringed and would like the Libraries to remove the work, please email Libraries and Archives staff at info@bakerlib.org.

In your message, please include:

- Bibliographic details, including title, author, and date.
- A link to the work on our website.
- A statement about why you believe the work is still protected by copyright and why its use is not authorized by the copyright owner or agent; and
- Written documentation, such as evidence of copyright and renewal registrations, establishing your claim to copyright.

Upon receipt of the notice, the Library will evaluate the claim and if it appears to be valid, remove the work or content, as appropriate.

CONDITIONS OF USE:

For items determined to be in the public domain, no special use permissions are required. More information about copyright term and the public domain is available here:

<https://guides.library.cornell.edu/copyright/publicdomain> . Users who are unsure about whether an item has entered the public domain are encouraged to contact Baker County Library District.

For all other items, users should assume copyright still applies and follow these conditions::

- Materials may not be used for any commercial purpose without prior written permission from Baker County Library District.
- Materials may be used for non-commercial, educational and research purposes.
- Source credit must be attributed to “Baker County Library District.”
- Materials may not be re-published in print or electronic form without prior written permission.
- Materials may not be mounted on an additional server for public use, or for use by a set of subscribers without prior written permission from Baker County Library District.
